Personal information does not include:
- Publicly available information from government records.
- De-identified or aggregated consumer information.
- Information excluded from CCPA’s scope, like:
  - Health or medical information covered by the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPPA) and California Confidentiality of Medical Information Act (CMIA) or clinical trial data;
  - Personal information covered by certain sector-specific privacy laws, including the Fair Credit Reporting Act (FRCA), the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (GLBA) or California Financial Information Privacy Act (FIPA), and the driver’s Privacy Protection Act of 1994.
Use of Personal Information

We may use or disclose the personal information we collect about you for one or more of the following business purposes:

- To identify you, authenticate your identity; maintain your employee records; help others to contact you; communicate with you; and maintain an internal employee directory.
- To determine your eligibility to work and fulfill our obligations to relevant government authorities.
- To register you with regulatory supervisory authorities in the maintenance of state and industry qualification records and required licenses.
- To grant you access to internal systems; monitor and evaluate your work and performance.
- To contact designated contacts in the case of an emergency.
- To offer you benefits and accommodations, manage leave, or as part of the administration of our health plan or wellness program.
- To assess your personal and professional development, your suitability for promotions, benefits and other awards, job moves and staff restructuring and fulfill our obligations to regulators (including demonstrating the suitability of employees for their role).
- To determine your ability for certain job roles and to fulfill our obligations to regulators (including demonstrating the suitability of employees for their role to regulators and professional bodies).
- To pay you or provide other benefits and process any expense claims.
- To monitor your compliance with our internal policies and procedures, to investigate security breaches and misuse of computer equipment and systems, to protect the safety of employees and third parties, and to protect our property from theft, vandalism and damage.
- To respond to law enforcement or regulatory requests and as required by applicable law, legal service, court order, or governmental regulations.
- As described to you when collecting your personal information or as otherwise set forth in the CCPA.
- To evaluate or conduct a merger, divestiture, restructuring, reorganization, dissolution, or other sale or transfer of some or all of our assets, in which personal information held by us is among the assets considered.
- Public communications about company events.

We will not collect additional categories of personal information or use the personal information we collected for additional purposes without providing you notice.

We do not sell personal information and in the preceding twelve (12) months have not sold any personal information.
