Your Rights and Choices

The CCPA provides consumers (California residents) specific rights regarding their personal information. Much of the personal information we maintain is exempted from the CCPA's access and deletion rights, as described above. This section therefore describes rights you may have under the CCPA and explains how to exercise those rights to the extent your personal information is covered by the CCPA.

Access to Specific Information

You have the right to request that we disclose certain information to you about our collection and use of your personal information over the past 12 months. Once we receive and confirm your verifiable consumer request, we will disclose to you:

- The categories of personal information we collected about you.
- The categories of sources for the personal information we collected about you.
- Our business or commercial purposes for collecting that personal information.
- The categories of third parties with which we share that personal information.
- The categories of personal information that we have shared with third parties for business or commercial purposes.

Our responses to any of these requests will cover the 12-month period preceding our receipt of the request.

Deletion Request Rights

You have the right to request that we delete any of your personal information that we collected from you and retained, subject to certain exceptions. Once we receive and confirm your verifiable consumer request, we will delete (and direct our service providers to delete) your personal information from our records, unless an exception applies.

We may deny your deletion request if retaining the information is necessary for us or our service providers to:
1. Complete the transaction for which we collected the personal information, provide a good or service that you requested, take actions reasonably anticipated within the context of our ongoing business relationship with you, or otherwise perform our contract with you.

Engage in public or peer-reviewed scientific, historical, or statistical research in the public interest that adheres to all other applicable ethics and privacy laws, when the information’s deletion may likely render impossible or seriously impair the research’s achievement, if you previously provided informed consent.
7. Enable solely internal uses that are reasonably aligned with consumer expectations based on your relationship with us.
8. Comply with a legal obligation.
9. Make other internal and lawful uses of that information that are compatible with the context in which you provided it.

Exercising Access and Deletion Rights

To exercise access and deletion rights described above, please submit a verifiable consumer request to us by either:

- Calling us at 612-303-6930 or 877-337-4737
- Visit PiperSandler.com

You may also designate an authorized agent to submit requests on your behalf. If you do so, you will be required to verify your identity by providing us with certain personal information as described below. Additionally, we will also require that you provide the agent with written permission to act on your behalf, and we will deny the request if the agent is unable to submit proof to us that you have authorized them to act on your behalf. You make also make a verifiable consumer request on behalf of your minor child.

You may only make a verifiable consumer request to access your personal information twice with a 12-month period. The verifiable consumer request must:

- Provide sufficient information that allows us to reasonably verify you are the person about whom we collected personal information or an authorized representative.
- Describe your request with sufficient detail that allows us to properly understand, evaluate, and respond to it.

We cannot respond to your request or provide you with personal information if we cannot verify your identity or authority to make the request and confirm the personal information relates to you. Making a verifiable consumer request does not require you to create an account with us. We will only use personal information provided in a verifiable consumer request to verify the requestor’s identity or authority to make the request.
Requests for Household Information

There may be some types of Personal Information that can be associated with a household (a group of people living together in a single home). Requests for access and deletion of household personal information must be made by each member of the household. We will verify each member of the household using the verification process explained above. If we are unable to verify the identity of each household member with the degree of certainty required, we will not be able to respond to the request. We will notify you to explain the basis of our denial.

Response Timing and Format

We endeavor to respond to a verifiable consumer request within 45 days of its receipt. If we require more time (up to 90 days), we will seek to inform you of the reason and extension period in writing. We will deliver our written response by mail or electronically, at your option. If we cannot comply with a request, we will endeavor to explain the reasons why. For access requests, we will seek to provide your personal information in a format that is usable and should allow you to transmit the information from one entity to another entity without hindrance.

If we determine that the request warrants a fee, we will tell you why we made that decision and provide you with a cost estimate before completing your request.
